

Exhibitor Information 2019

Welcome to Art From Trash. 3 – 11 August

Entries are now open for Art From Trash 2019.

Entries must be received by Midnight July 12th, 2019.

Please remember our motivation in running this event is to educate people in the potential value of what we throw away, within an artistic context, to reduce waste. If in the process artists get to sell their work and make some money and we get a little off the top to support the costs of running the event then so much the better.

Online applications reduce paperwork considerably and allows us to concentrate on other priorities to make the exhibition great. If a paper version is the only way you can enter send your addresses by email to info@bower.org.au and we will mail you one.

Access with Artwork is only possible via the lift shaft (800 x 900 x 1300) and the stairways (800 x 2000). Make sure that your artwork is either mountable on location or if it comes in one piece it should fit within these dimensions. If your artwork is really huge or if you are uncertain whether it will fit get in touch first or check out the location)

If you are entering multiple works:

Each work must have its own entry form and fee paid unless your exhibition entry is not for sale and can be displayed close together under 1.2m then you can enter them as one work. If your artwork is for sale and is a series of smaller pieces, for example jewellery, or smaller items with a combined sale value of under $150 then you can enter it as one work. Therefore if your artwork is a series with a combined value greater than $150 then each item needs its own entry form and fee paid. If your work is somewhere in between or you are now really confused email info@bower.org.au first to check/negotiate. I am sure you can appreciate our efforts to be fair.

Commission: The commission amount payable to The Bower on the sale of items remains at 30% for the each item sold.
